To: All competitors of the Hankook 24H DUBAI 2020

From: Creventic

Subject: Hankook rain tyres

Dear teams,

The weather forecast for Friday and Saturday is predicting rain.

We are aware of the fact that some competitors did not order extra sets of rain tyres for the race

As a service and courtesy Hankook will have 3 sets rain tyres available for those teams.

At the moment Creventic and Hankook are investigating if we can fly in rain tyres for teams who would like to order extra.

The additional order costs for these rain tyres may be as much as €150,- /tire. due to air freight expenses. At the moment we are trying to get the exact extra cost per tire confirmed.

Please contact C&R before 12:00 today if you want to order any extra rain tyres. If you decide to order you must pay and take the 3 sets at the standard price + the extra sets + transport cost for the ordered size. any unused sets you have take home with you and are non-refundable.

Please note Creventic and Hankook will do their utmost to help the teams, however if any delay would occur neither Creventic nor Hankook can be deemed responsible and any additional rain tyre ordered must still be paid for.
